Dear Sir Vitz

Today I am sending you another genealogy – namely of the "Spring" and several allied families. It is one of only three going to genealogy libraries – the D.A.R. in Washington and the Nyc City library. –

It has taken well over forty years to finally complete the record back to the original ancestor.

This book is, I believe, of particular historical and genealogical value to the Hamilton Co. area; especially the Finneytown area. Settled when Hamilton Co was a part of the N.W. territory – later Ohio.

My gr gr gr. gr. grand father Ebenezer Ward settled in the Finneytown area in the early 1790's and willed a large tract to his grandson Ebenezer Ward Finney who took over in 1798 – hence the name "Finney town".

The many descendants of the families Finney Spring, Reynard and Robinson who settled there in 1800 and intermarried with other early settlers are very numerous now all over Ohio and Indiana.

You, I believe, will be interested in the old maps of N.Y. City & Brooklyn. It seems almost unbelievable that the houses in the N.Y. map were drawn as they were when the Dutch settled there.

The old Dutch records were so complete ~~that~~ this was possible. The first Jan Spring lived in one of them.

The old Brooklyn map gives the location of the places where the early families, lived worked and went to churches.

Another photo stat of the old type of Flat Bush is of interest to me. — opp page 16

If you will read the page I wrote of my visit to the site of the old Dutch Ref. Ch. at Flatlands L. I. near Coney Island I am sure you will think this is indeed a very small world and very interesting. It is entitled "Colbert Spring" and precedes page 9.

Here lie buried, in a beautiful old cemetery, (1656) the forefathers of the Van der Bilts, van der Vanters and many other prominent families of today. —

I hope you will find time to read a large part — other than the names & dates — of this book — Sincerely

Howard Griffith Burdge

FOREWORD

The completing of the "Sprong and Allied Families" genealogy covers a period of over forty years of very interesting research in many parts of the country - from New York to California. At the same time data for the Burdge, Griffith, Goltry and other genealogies, recently completed, were collected. The difficult and sometimes seemingly impossible task of completing the records of the earlier generations has been the aim of the author. Had it not been for the aid of Severn D. Sprong of New York, Olive Tilson Sprong of Los Angeles, A. J. Sprong of Cincinnati, Ohio, Virginia Raymond Cummins of Cincinnati, Ohio, Lewis Neff of Tulsa, Oklahoma, Howard Finney of New York City and the early enthusiasm of Olive Jane Sprong Burdge the task would never have been completed.

The author and his most helpful wife spent many hours in the following genealogical libraries:

Los Angeles, California
New York City
State Library, Albany, New York
State Library, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania
D.A.R. Library, Washington, D. C.
Public Library, Boston, Massachusetts
Orlando, Florida, Library
Newbury Library, Chicago, Illinois
Cincinnati Library, Cincinnati, Ohio

Historical Society, Newark, New Jersey
Monmouth Co. Historical Society, New Jersey
Pennsylvania Historical Society, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Federal Census Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Court House Records were searched, as were vital statistics where available.

Too much commendation cannot be given to Miss Liberty SantaMaria of Conway, N.H. for her intelligent and accurate work in the typing of the three genealogies of Burdge, Goltry and Sprong.

I also wish to acknowledge the valuable help I received from Mrs. Carroll W. Brown of 650 Sunset Avenue, Hagerstown, Maryland, who searched census and other records in Washington, D.C. on many occasions.

INTRODUCTION

Ebenezer Ward and his Grandson Ebenezer Ward Finney

Since completing the Burdge genealogy which contained material concerning the allied families of Sprong and Finney as well as others, new material has been discovered, thanks to the kind and most efficient help of Mrs. Virginia R. Cummins of Cincinnati, Ohio. For this reason, I am including more data on the Finney-Ward relationship in this Sprong record.

Ebenezer Ward born in Newton, Massachusetts, April 17, 1709, son of Jonathan Ward and Abigail Hall, and grandson of John Ward and Hannah Jackson (the founders of Marlboro, Massachusetts) and great-grandson of Wm. Ward, the American ancestor (See William Ward genealogy).

Ebenezer Ward married first Mary Fisher whose line has been traced back to the 1400's in the Fiske genealogy.

The history of Norton, Massachusetts, Page 79, shows that John Finney whose son, Solomon, married Mary, the daughter of Ebenezer Ward, and Ebenezer Ward were closely associated in church work in Norton, Massachusetts, and vicinity.

Solomon Finney, the son of John Finney, married about 1750 Mary Ward, Ebenezer's daughter. They had three children, Solomon, Jr. born ca. 1751, Ebenezer, born 1755, and Mary, born several years later. Solomon Finney married the second time in 1768 and his two younger children, Ebenezer Ward and Mary went to live with their maternal grandfather, Ebenezer Ward, and young Ebenezer Ward Finney was commonly known as Ward Finney so as not to confuse him with his grandfather. In fact, he enlisted as Ward Finney in Connecticut, and later in New York, as a soldier in the American Revolution.

After living in Western Connecticut for many years, Ebenezer Ward moved across the line to Westchester County, New York, where he was a prominent citizen for many years, being president of the Westchester County Committee that on June 4, 1776 raised a company of soldiers for Capt. Jonathan Horton to serve in the American Revolution.

In the late 1700's he migrated down the Ohio River and settled in Hamilton County, Western Territory, where he died about 1795-6. His will dated June 10, 1795, is on file in the Hamilton County Court House at Cincinnati, Ohio. A copy of this will is appended and tells quite a little of his activities.

In the fall of 1800 his grandson, Ebenezer Ward Finney and wife, Rachel Raymond, led a group including David Sprong his son-in-law, and wife Lois Finney Sprong; Cuthbert Robinson, and Samuel Raymond, with their families, to Ohio. Samuel Raymond was a brother of Rachel Raymond the wife of E. W. Finney and Cuthbert Robinson was a brother-in-law of David Sprong.

This group left Rensselaer County, New York, in the summer of 1800, following the Mohawk Trail to Western New York, and then down the Allegheny River Valley to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, where they built large oak barges with timbers fastened together with wooden pegs. On these barges they built shelters for the families, loaded their covered wagons and oxen and all supplies and started down the Ohio, landing in Hamilton County that fall. Here they settled on land willed to Ebenezer Ward Finney by his grandfather, Ebenezer Ward. (See appended will of Ebenezer Ward). Their settlement was named Finneytown and still goes by that name, although many attempts have been made to incorporate it into the city of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ebenezer Ward Finney and his wife, Rachel Raymond, lie buried in the old Finneytown Cemetery which he established not far from his home. The old Finneytown schoolhouse still stands.

Their descendants by the name of Finney, Sprong and Hall are numerous in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. Raymond and Robinson descendants are also numerous and prominent. The Sprongs are particularly numerous because David Sprong and WIFE LOIS FINNEY had eleven sons and no daughters. No attempt has been made to collect all the names of the later generations because such records are easily available to the interested parties, but a great deal of effort over a period of forty years has been made to get the older and very hard-to-get records.

Fortunately I knew well until I was a man grown, my grandmother, Olive Sprong (Burdge) who knew personally the persons who had migrated from Albany, New York, and vicinity to Finneytown. I have notes of the old families which she gave me in 1891. Her Uncle Cornelius Sprong (son of David) born in 1802, used to visit her in the 1880's, and I saw him many times. I have a diary of my father's in which he tells of meeting Uncle "Neely" to get eggs and farm produce.

The Finney line is given back to the ancestors as an allied family; so also are the Burdge, Hall, Van Deusen, and Griffith lines given back to the first immigrants to America, in the Burdge genealogy.

On June 18, 1795 the Rev. David Barrows wrote in his diary:

"At Elder Smith's I was called upon to write Elder Ward's last will and testament. I felt happy to oblige the old saint. This business took up the greatest part of the day, but after it was done, he seemed composed and observed that nothing remained but to wait his Lord's call."

So - the copy of the original will which I am sending you - is in David Barrows' hand writing. Ebenezer Ward has signed it with a shaky hand.

The Rev. Barrows was on his way to Greenville, Ohio, for the signing of the Treaty with the Indians. He came from Virginia on horseback and stayed over a few days here with Benjamin Stites. He called on the Rev. John Smith while here, and there he met Ebenezer Ward who was staying at the Rev. Smith's at that time.

(This excerpt from the Rev. David Barrows' Diary has been copied by Mrs. Virginia Raymond Cummings who has done a remarkable piece of work in collecting all the early data, including Deeds, Wills and other documents relating to the Finneytown settlement and nearby areas. The author is deeply indebted to her for her help.)

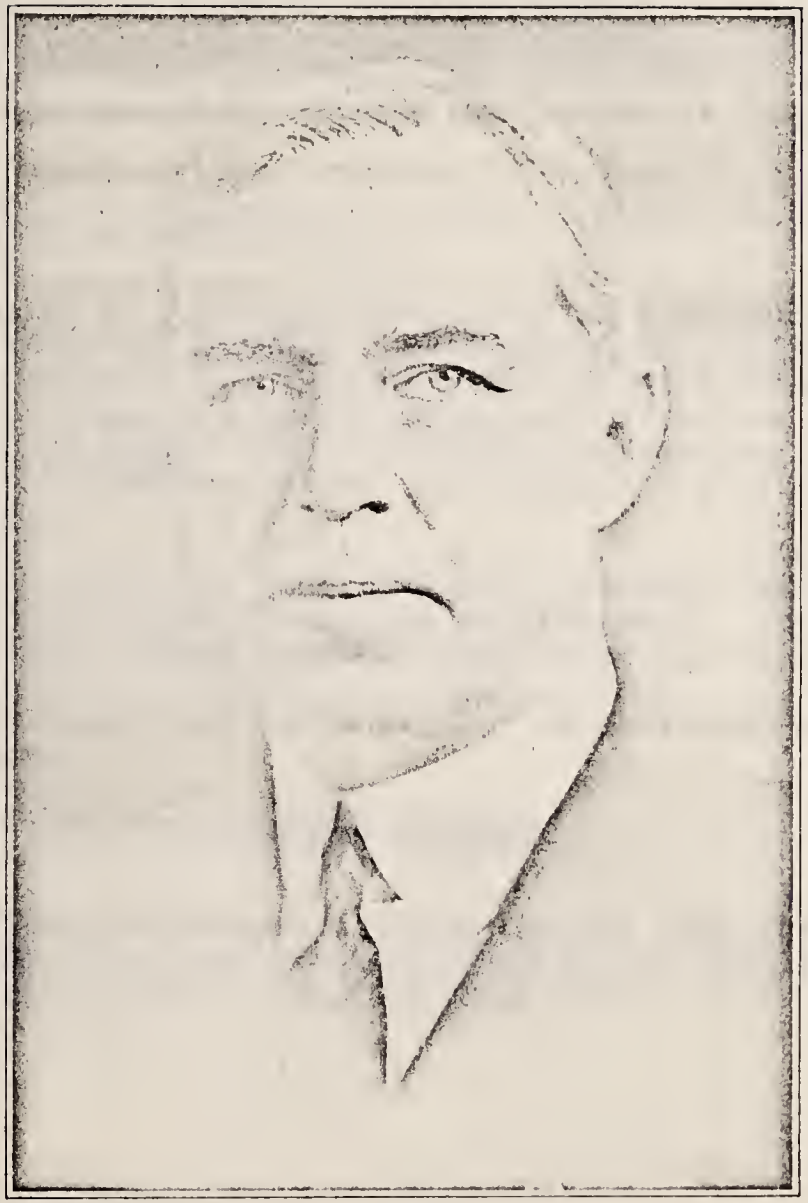
DUTCH NAMES

At first Dutch names are very confusing with their endings - namely "sen" or just "s." "Sen" means 'son.' For instance, Jansen means Jan's son - just as Johnson means John's son.

Cornelius Jansen means Cornelius is the son of Jan. Then if Cornelius had a son he would most likely name him for his father - thus Jan Corneliusen - (Jan, son of Cornelius). No sir name was usually used.

The Van Deusen, a sir name, was for Dersen, a place in Holland.

Thus Pietersen Corneliusen Van Deusen is Peter, son of Cornelius of Van Deusen.



HOWARD GRIFFITH BURDGE

Jan or Johannis Sprongh the common ancestor of the family, a soldier from Bon, in the Province of Drenthe, Holland. Married 10-23-1660 Anna or Johanna Sodelaers from either Koenigsberg, Prussia or (as Bergen says) Conex in Bergen, Norway.

He died prior to September 15, 1694, on which day his widow married Claes(en) Tunis(sen) Clear.

He was a smith by trade residing first in New Amsterdam (N.Y.C.) and later in Flushing. At Flushing he bought May 29, 1679, of Cath. Van Werven, widow of Dr. Polthemius for 3500 guilder, a house and outbuildings with five home lots in the village of Flatbush (P. 63 of Liber AA. Flatbush Records) to which place he probably moved and joined the Flatbush Dutch Reformed Church.

In 1689 he bought of Derick (Dyrck) Woertman (at the ferry) some property (Page 137, Liber I of Conveyances). He finally moved to Bushwick - where his son David lived and died.

These "villages" are now a part of Brooklyn and are not widely separated.

He signed his name Johannis Sprungh.

The good people of Bushwick, Long Island, in common with other towns had suffered so long from the mismrule of the bigoted Duke of York (James II) that the news of his abdication in 1688 and the succession to the English throne of his daughter, Mary, and her husband, William, Prince of Orange, was received with a general outburst of heartfelt joy.

The auspicious event was celebrated by a convivial entertainment given at the home of Gabriel Sprong (must have been at his father's old house, his father probably having died, as Gabriel had not married as yet) to which most of the residents of Bushwick were invited.

VOLKERT SPRONG

In the spring of 1933, at the suggestion of Severn Sprong (see Page 59) who was much interested in the Sprong line, I went to the old cemetery of the Flatlands Dutch Church - not far from Coney Island, Long Island.

Getting off the street car at Flatbush Avenue and King's Highway there didn't seem to be any cemetery or church in that vicinity, but the attendant at a nearby gas station said, "if you go around the next corner to the left you will find what you are looking for." It was a strange sight - the old church and large cemetery away from the noise of the city.

I soon saw some well preserved Sprong gravestones, one of them that of Volkert Sprong. Just then the old sexton, about 90 years old, came along and said, "are you looking for someone?" I said, "Yes, and I have found it, the grave of Volkert Sprong;" he said, "Ah yes, old Volkert Sprong - my grandfather knew him well and told me all about him. Volkert, born in 1718, like many of the older people, did not believe in revolution as did the younger men. So they confiscated his property and he went to Canada. After the war was over, he returned and lived at the home of my grandfather (who was a young man) until he again got a home of his own. He was a good man but like many so-called Tories, could not easily fall in with the ideas of the younger generation, although a loyal lover of America."

It did not seem possible that this old sexton could know so intimately the affairs of Volkert Sprong born in 1718 - over two hundred years ago.

These records are from James Sprong's Bible.

An interesting old letter written by Lois Sprong, eldest daughter of James Sprong (Page 30) to her cousin Wm. S. Hall of Rush Co., Ind. Her father was in poor health and died soon after this letter was written. Note the formality although these cousins had been playmates as children.

Sir: March 17th, 1838

I have at last undertook to say a few words to you. It is now Saturday evening and my work is done and I am well and hope this may find you and the rest of the people well. William I have to but am grieved at the thought of telling you I had to leave home. Father does worse than ever and I cannot stand it any longer. Olive has very poor health * at present. Mother says she does not know how to get along with the children for father does not do anything to support the family. I am single yet and while I find single life as pleasant as I do I intend to so live for I have seen the troubles of a married life. Oh the troubles I have seen since I saw you last, but they have past and I see better times and I trust the lord for better yet.

I told you when you was here that I thought I should come and make you a visit this spring but I do not know that I am for I am engaged to work all summer at brother Fairchilds a very fine member of church. His wife is one of the most tideast ladies I ever lived with. At present I am very well satisfied - but if you please to write me in the course of a month and let me know if you or some of the people are coming down I will make arrangements and come and see you all.

When I began to write I was alone but I have company now so no more at present to her cousin.

Lois Sprong

(* Interesting to note, however, that she outlived all the rest of the family)

No envelopes were used - the paper was folded and sealed with wax in one spot. Addressed as follows:

As a small boy the author of this genealogy was often present when "Uncle Nooly" and his son, Barney, came to visit at Olive Sprong Burdge's (Mrs. Jonathon Burdge) home at Home City (now Saylor Park, O.) Cornelius was then over 80 and was very popular with the whole family as was also his son Barney.

Brief outline of David Sprong's widow's petition for pension of Eight ($8) Dollars per month, for his services, in Washington, D. C.

Sept. 2, 1878, appeared Hester Sprong, widow of David, at post office address, North Rose, Wayne County, New York, asking for pension for his service, alleged to have been in Capt. Vandenburgh's Company of N.Y. Militia, 9-1-1814 to 10-1-1814, and believed to have been in battle of Plattsburgh. However, evidence found showed service for only 13 days, Sept. 8th to 20th. Hester Sprong asserted her husband served as private with Capt. Vandenburgh under name of Jacob Sprong; that he served about 1 month; was at Plattsburgh at time of invasion, and she believes was engaged in action there; was honorably discharged at Plattsburgh. At time of enlistment, David was 21 yrs. old, a farmer residing in Schodack, Rensselaer Co. She m. David 9-19-1818, her maiden name having been Hester Hulett; neither of them had been married previously. David d. in Sodus, 12-17-1872. Since being discharged from army, David had lived in "Schrodac" Rensselaer Co., 13 yrs.; Watervliet, Albany Co., 6 yrs.; then in Sodus, Wayne Co., 34 yrs. until his death. He had received a 160-acre bounty-land warrant. Mary Turner, who swore to the marriage, states she had seen the Bible formerly owned by Christopher and Susannah Sprong, both deceased, in which is entry of this marriage; that for 7 yrs. now Hester had been a widow; that the Bible gives names of David's parents as Christopher and Susannah Sprong, and that the record was written therein by either Cornelius or William Sprong, she did not remember which. Attorney for Hester stated David had had a land warrant, that his son, 60 years old can testify to this; and that the land warrant could not have been granted without proof of service for at least 14 days. Statement that David d. 12-17-1872, ae. 79 yrs., was signed by his son, Alfred H. Sprong, who was 59 yrs. old, residing at North Rose, Wayne County.

In 1935 the author of this book visited at Barney's home on the old David Sprong farm - We went to look at the old barn built in 1800, as a large sign (erected 1900) said the barn was built in 1800. It is large and built to last another 100 years - But was torn down in the late 1940's!

History of Queens County, New York, 1882

Bernard Sprong was an early resident of Jamaica, where he was born in 1727, died in 1779, leaving 3 children, the oldest of whom, Bernard, was employed by John Jacob Astor.

The second son, David, married Ida Van Law, and settled in Flushing, becoming a farmer. Of his 5 children --- David was run over and killed while a student in Union Hall; 2 daughters died without issue; Jon married Elizabeth Robinson, by whom he had 7 children, of whom Mrs. Ida Foster was the oldest, and now is the only one on the island (1882).

Ford's "Hamilton County, Ohio," gives write-up of David Sprong, born 1763, who settled in Springfield Township, Hamilton County, Ohio, about 1800. He married Lois (or Louise) Tenney and died 1842. Was father of Cornelius, listed in 1880 Springfield Twp. Census, who married Ruth Perkins, 1845. Ruth died soon and he married second, Parmelia D. McCash. David and Lois both buried in Finneytown.

Cincinnati, the Queen City, Vol. 3, Page 505, refers to F. W. Sprong, manager of the Postal Telegraph Cable. He was son of William and Sarah (Couch) Sprong.

Note: Note in Schodack, the name Spraney, rather than Sprong. But it is undoubtedly a mistake in the census records - copying by the copyist, as apparently the same family of William Spraney appears in the 1860 census as Spronge.

Andrew Spong, from Germany, naturally "does not belong."

Note: On map of Rensselaer County, North and East Greenbush, then Schodack townships, appear in that order in southwest corner of the county, with Hudson River as western boundary; then on the east appear Poerstenkill, Sand Lake and Nassau. Accordingly, these townships were considered the "vicinity of East Greenbush and Schodack Valley and Castle-on-Hudson."
